

I have had satellite radio service for about three months now and I would be at a huge loss if services were altered or taken away. Instant traffic and weather is not a service that I use every day or every week, but it is a huge benefit because it allows me to plan accordingly should there be traffic problem in a town I am travelling to. I would even pay extra for this service if XM Radio wanted me to. So I am completely for instant traffic and weather on satellite radio.
